Back to School

New School Year, New Principals And a New Building in the Works

by Anne Gardner

As Greenbelt public school students get ready to go back to school on Monday, August 22 they can expect a few changes.

Greenbelt Elementary has a new principal, Monica Gaines. She replaces Principal Kim Seidel, who decided to move on to new challenges at an elementary school in Bowie. Gaines comes from an administrative position as instructional specialist in the Area 1 office but has previously served as a vice principal and is herself the parent of a kindergartner. Staff and parents at the school are looking forward to working with her as she settles into the school. One teacher, asked her first impression, said Gaines was "a delight," and PTA President Lucy Dirksen was impressed by her willingness "to dive into various tasks and to do anything to help us."

At Greenbelt Middle School, Warren Tweedy will be the new principal. Tweedy took over from Sharon Porter as acting principal part way through the last school year, when Porter left to take care of her mother in North Carolina. PTA President Amy Hansen is very positive about the change. "I was very impressed with Mr. Tweedy last year. He doesn't have an easy job but he comes at it with enthusiasm and high expectations for the students."

Construction of the new middle school building continues seven days a week and the new school is on track to open in time for the 2012-2013 school year. To see a live camera view of the construction, go to <http://www1.pgcps.org/cip/index.aspx?id=146076>.

The building will be a LEED gold certified building, and the first steps toward this goal can already be seen, with the installation of a geothermal heating and cooling system.

Back-to-School Resource Fair

The Prince George's County Public Schools (PGCPS) will hold its first official Back-to-School Fair for the county at Eleanor Roosevelt High School on Saturday, August 20 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This county-wide event is open to all PGCPS students, teachers, staff, parents, community leaders and county agencies. The fair will provide parents and students with access to resources needed for a successful school year. Those attending will have an opportunity to speak with school representatives and get information about before- and after-school programs, school registration, PTA registration, school supplies and more. In addition, there will be entertainment, food and give-aways.

Principal Monica Gaines Greets GES Parents

by Sandra A. Lange

The 2011-12 school year is about to begin and Greenbelt Elementary School (GES) parents and students will be welcomed by new principal Monica Gaines. Appointed four weeks ago, Gaines has been busy moving into her new office, becoming familiar with a new curriculum and meeting her staff. On Wednesday, August 10 she hosted a "Meet and Greet" for families and community members.

In the short time she has been at GES, Gaines has impressed people with her ability to multi-task as well as with her energy. "She is calm and creative," noted Lucy Dirksen, president of the GES PTA.

PTA board member Karen Yoho commented that Gaines impressed her as being "kind and gentle. She also sits back and finds out what works," Yoho added.

District 2 School Board Member Peggy Higgins remarked that Gaines has many leadership qualities that will be a good match for GES. "She is very dedicated and wonderful," commented Higgins.

Sixth grade teacher Beth Novick said that Gaines seems "very child-centered" although she and Gaines had not had much time yet to get to know each other.

Gaines appeared relaxed as she greeted several dozen GES parents and volunteers. She said she is looking forward to the start of school and hopes her days will be less stressful once her schedule becomes more organized. She said she was somewhat familiar with Greenbelt in her former position as an instructional specialist for the area, although she had not previously visited GES. She formerly served as a reading and math teacher at Thomas Pullen Elementary and as a vice principal at Bladensburg Elementary. Gaines replaces Kimberly Seidel, who has been assigned to Rockledge Elementary School in Bowie.

Neighbors, Others Attend Meeting on Smoking Ban

by James Giese

What do you get when you mix Cooperativism, Libertarianism, neighborliness, health hazards and fresh air in a castle (your home is your castle) with common walls? A conundrum? Or a mess?

An unsatisfactory, unresolved conclusion was the outcome of a standing-room-only meeting in a Greenbelt Community Center classroom on August 10 that had been called by David Schuman, a Greenbelt Homes, Inc., (GHI) resident of 11 Court Ridge Road. Schuman has filed a civil suit in Prince George's County Circuit Court against GHI seeking $600,000 in damages and an injunction banning neighbors from smoking at their premises. The case is scheduled for hearing August 17.

Neither representatives of GHI nor the adjacent neighbor who smokes attended the meeting although Schuman said he had invited them. Unusual for an issue in litigation, no legal representatives were present. The audience of 40 or more seemed to have no advocates for smoking or the rights of smokers. One audience member, William Norwood, expressed his support to Schuman.

In the time allotted for audience questions by Schuman, who conducted the meeting, the gist of questions not related to the health effects of second-hand smoke centered around his role as a member of a cooperative. Such questions were raised principally by Johanna Goderre Jones and her husband Tom.

Their questions indicated they felt Schuman should have brought his matter before the membership of GHI rather than file his complaints in a way that required GHI consideration in executive meetings unknown to the general membership. It was suggested that Schuman should have circulated a petition among members.

Council Asks that BARC, Goddard Be in District 3

by Barbara Hopkins

The Prince George's County Redistricting Commission held a public hearing on Saturday, August 13 about its newly released county redistricting plan. No one from the Greenbelt City Council attended but council had agreed at its meeting on June 20 to send a letter to the commission requesting that municipal boundaries, including undeveloped areas, be kept intact in the redistricting process.

Assuming the plan will be adopted, Greenbelt falls into District 3, which also includes College Park, Berwyn Heights, Riverdale Park, University Park and New Carrollton. [See map of District 3 on page 6 of the Greenbelt News Review, August 11.]

Council discussed the redistricting map at its regular meeting on Monday, August 15 just before the next meeting of the Redistricting Commission on August 16. The commission will meet again on August 23 and must submit its redistricting plan to the county council by September 1.

The county charter requires the county council to hold a public hearing within 30 days; the hearing has been scheduled for September 27. Unless the county council enacts another plan, the commission's plan will become law on November 30.

Assistant City Manager David Moran said the Bowie area had experienced considerable growth in the last 10 years, probably accounting for the fact that Greenbelt and Bowie will no longer be in the same district. Growth in Greenbelt had not been as dramatic as in Bowie, he said. Actual population figures had not been released with the commission's

On Tuesday, August 23 at 7 p.m. singer-songwriter Ari Jacobson will make an appearance at the New Deal Café. Jacobson is touring the East Coast for his debut album, "Songs About You" and goes on to Philadelphia after his Café stint here.

City Animal Control Officers Certified

Animal Control Officer Susie Root and Animal Control Shelter Manager Kim DeAngelis recently completed training at the National Animal Control Association (NACA) training academy in Dayton, Ohio. As a result, both are now designated and recognized as certified animal control officers. NACA is the only organization which trains, tests and certifies animal control professionals on a national basis. Completion of this two-part academy training denotes mastery of knowledge and skills associated with animal control and shelter management.

Workshop

The next workshop in the Co-op Shop Healthy quarterly program, focusing on summer soups and smoothies, will be held at the Youth Center on Wednesday, August 24 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. During the dog days of late summer it is nice to have simple, cooling meals that do not require turning on the stove or oven. Cold soups and smoothies are good for those meals and especially nice for packed lunches.

Simple tasty recipes to incorporate a variety of fresh and frozen fruits, veggies and fresh herbs into cool summer soups and smoothies will be offered. To attend, RSVP by Tuesday, August 23 to membership@greenbelt.coop or 301-474-0522, ext. 205.

City Notes

Code Enforcement reports Franklin Park residents filed all 10 of the property maintenance complaints received by the city the week of August 12. They included leaks, lack of air conditioning, pest infestations, wet carpets and floors, missing screens, broken locks, unsecured units and mold/mildew. In addition, there were seven re-inspections and four annual inspections of day care facilities.

Animal Control

One dog was impounded from a car; there were four wildlife calls and three bats and one snake were removed from homes. Staff attended the Animal Control Commission board hearing for a cruelty case.

Public Works

Horticulture crews prepared fields for kickball league play, watered trees throughout the city and programmed the new irrigation control timer at the Municipal Building.

Refuse/Recycling

Just over 30 tons of refuse and 13.32 tons of co-mingled recyclable materials were collected. Crews working with Camp YOGO children removed 22.4 pounds of Japanese stilt grass from the North Forest Preserve in a one-day invasive species removal.

Recreation

Staff met with the electrician hired to install the tennis court lighting system to review electrical drawings and site plans for the work. The electrician is working to secure needed permits to begin the work. The lighting system was ordered and has been delivered to the contractor's facility so it is available once the work begins.

One HVAC unit in the Community Center experienced a clogged drain. Fortunately, a GIVES volunteer noticed something amiss with the unit and notified staff immediately, preventing an overflow and flood.

A Different Paris

"Sarah's Key," a searing story set in Nazi-occupied Paris, opens Friday, August 19 at Old Greenbelt Theatre. In mid-July of 1942, French authorities arrested thousands of Jews – including women and children – and crammed them into a bicycling stadium before sending them off in cattle cars.

The film focuses on a girl – Sarah – who tries desperately at the last minute to save her younger brother. It's based on a best-selling 2007 novel. Kristin Scott Thomas and Aidan Quinn play central roles in this tale of a horrific darkness imposed on the City of Light.

PG-13, 102 minutes. Mostly in French, with English subtitles.

Teresa Ann Davis Moore, 51, died on August 13, 2011, of an aneurysm. Mrs. Moore grew up in Greenbelt and attended Greenbelt schools.

On May 27, 1993, she married Patrick L. Moore, who was also a Greenbelter and they continued to live in Greenbelt.

She worked for the Prince George's County Schools as a food services assistant, the Glenn Dale Golf Course and the University of Maryland University College.

She was active in the Greenbelt American Legion Post 136 auxiliary.

Her friend Jerreanne King said Mrs. Moore was the "personality of their court," shoveling snow, giving help when needed, being caring and friendly.

Mrs. Moore was predeceased by her parents Willard and Dorothy Davis.

She is survived by her husband Patrick L. Moore and daughter Michelle Lee Moore; her brothers Willard and David Davis and her sister Lois Kirk. She is also survived by numerous nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

The family will gather at Borgwardt Funeral Home, 4400 Powder Mill Road, Beltsville, on Thursday, August 18 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. The funeral service and interment will be private.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Prince George's SPCA at info@pgspca.org.

In Memoriam

Teresa Moore, A Greenbelt Caregiver

Life-long Greenbelt girl Teresa Davis Moore, 51, passed from this life suddenly on Saturday, August 13 after a day-long struggle with a burst brain aneurysm.

There's a wall decoration in our bedroom that reads "Live Well, Laugh Often, Love Much." That was Teresa, especially the "Laugh Often." She could make a joke about anything and could infect others with her laugh. Where she went, a good time was sure to follow, as her sister Lois noted.

I met Teresa sometime after she married Pat, whom I have known most of his life as the brother of one of my childhood friends, Ed "Kibby" Moore. My wife Barbara and I would see Teresa frequently at the American Legion Post 136, where she was a member of the Women's Auxiliary. She, like many of us, liked to celebrate. She was always a joy to be around. I remember one night earlier this year when she was just chatting away to us about everything and nothing, so much so that a friend admonished her, telling her "Teresa, leave Rick and Barbara alone, you've been talking to them all night!" Teresa just made a face and carried on. We enjoyed it. How often have I found myself a tad talkative? We are both so glad now that we had that time together.

Teresa was devoted to Pat. They bickered like any of us married couples do. On more than one occasion she would be imploring Pat to come with her, that he had been at the Legion long enough. Pat would complain loudly that he was being mistreated, all the while following her out the door after some "discussion." I visited Pat this week and noted that he was waiting at the house for her to tell him what to do next. He said no, more likely he was waiting for her to yell at him.

She would put yellow Post-It notes around the house reminding him of some unfinished task. Once she even stuck one to his forehead. In Greenbelt, that's called love.

Pat said "I lost my best friend." Lois nodded and said "So did I."

Teresa also doted over her daughter Michelle, bragging about her often and telling everyone "She's a good kid." Amen to that.

By all accounts, Teresa was hard-working, dependable and precise in her work. She worked most recently for Prince George's County Schools Food Services but had worked previously for Glenn Dale Golf Course and for University of Maryland University College.

Lois told the story of how Teresa had helped to take care of first Pat's mother when she became ill and later his father. Pat and Teresa lived with them here in the family home and remained in the house after both had died. Lois said she had notebooks with details of medicines and dosages and care hints. In any town, you call that person a caregiver.

I spoke with a few of Teresa's friends. Darlene Thompson said she was always up and bubbly, always seeking to help others. She noted that "Teresa took care of everyone." She checked on neighbors and called people to keep in touch, often directing them in some fashion when they needed guidance.

Ray King said "She could make a lousy day OK. Her mood never changed." He spoke gratefully of how she had helped him and his children when his wife Diane had passed away recently. Diane was Teresa's best friend. Her daughter Amanda is Michelle's friend and was with Michelle the day I visited, just as I knew she would be. They are Diane and Teresa now.

I will remember Teresa's wonderful smile and that funny face she would make when someone said or did something that she thought was stupid or weird. Last year, I was putting together a book of some of the articles I have written over the years and noticed that I was missing a page. I mentioned it to Teresa and she exclaimed "I've got it! I have every article you've ever written. I keep them all!" She made me a copy of the page I needed.

Teresa, I thank you for thinking so highly of my work. I am just sorry that I had to write a memorial piece about you. But don't worry, I won't lose this one!

Pat wishes to thank everyone for their kindness and the good thoughts they have expressed to him and Michelle.

*In MemoriamKen Wright

My neighbor Ken Wright died on August 7, 2011. He had a brain aneurysm on August 6 and was rushed to the hospital.

Ken retired from the University of Maryland Physical Plant Department and moved to 8 Court Plateau Place 10 years ago.

Ken had a spectacular vegetable garden in his back yard which he tended to with much love every day. He shared many of his vegetables with his neighbors.

Ken always had a kind word for his friends and neighbors. I will miss seeing Ken every day. He brightened my day!

— Joyce Yarwood

Our sympathy to Mayor Judith Davis and her family on the death of her father Gerald Fintak.

We were saddened to hear of the sudden death of Ken Wright of Plateau Place on August 7.

Condolences to Patrick Moore and daughter Michelle and the family on the August 13 death of Teresa Ann Davis Moore.

A big Greenbelt welcome to Marie Valstad of Trondheim, Norway, who will be living here for a year with host Linda Curtis while she completes her senior year at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. There has already been a big court welcoming party, complete with ice cream sundaes, in Linda's Ridge Road neighborhood. Marie's main interest is photography but she also likes ice-skating, volleyball, dance and listening to music – and is looking forward to meeting other teenagers.

Courtney and Scott Ritz of Ridge Road completed CERT training on August 7 and are now full members of Greenbelt-CERT.

Back to School

School Registration Requirements

Registration is ongoing at all the local public schools. Registration packets can be picked up from the school offices during regular office hours, Monday through Thursday. A copy of the child's immunization record is required, as well as the Social Security number, proof of residency and proof of age. For more information go to www1.pgcps.org/backtoschool.

Parents are encouraged to register their children as soon as possible. According to the Prince George's County Public Schools website, students who have not registered for school by August 11 will not have transportation until August 29 and will not have a school schedule until August 26. They will be placed in general classes with appropriate grade levels until a schedule is completed.

Schedules

Schedules for registered students are available online via the SchoolMax Family Portal. Information on how to access SchoolMax, which also lists the students' grades for each assignment during the year, will be given to new students at the beginning of the school year.

Transportation

For information on school transportation, including a database to search for a student's nearest bus stop, go to www1.pgcps.org/transportation. Elementary school students are expected to walk if they live 1.5 miles or less from the school, with middle and high school students expected to walk two miles or less.

School Meals

The price of school meals has risen slightly this year. Lunch for elementary school students will cost $2.60 and middle and high school students will pay $2.85. Breakfast for all students remains at $1.50, with milk going up slightly to 55 cents.

To apply for free or reduced-priced meals, pick up an application at any school or call 301-952-6517 to have an application mailed to the students' home. Applications will also be sent home with students at the beginning of the school year.

Arrangements can be made to prepay for lunches so that children do not have to bring money to school each day. To prepay for meals online, go to <https://paypams.com/HomePage.aspx>.

Lunch menus are online at www1.pgcps.org/foodandnutrition/index.aspx?id=138572.

Volunteer at School

Volunteers help enhance education for students in the Prince George's County school system. Parents, students, neighbors, friends, business and government employees, crafts people, retirees and anyone who has time to share is invited to be a volunteer.

Volunteer activities include tutoring children individually or in small groups; aiding teachers in reading, mathematics, handwriting, science, English as a Second Language or any area of interest or sharing skills and talents, job expertise or life experience, as special resources for classroom instruction.

There is a need for volunteers to assist staff in the school office, media center and cafeteria. Those unable to travel to a school could volunteer to help from home by making instructional materials, typing, making displays and carrying out many other activities. Contact the local school to offer assistance.

Help is particularly needed in the school libraries this year, since the number of media center specialists in the county has been cut drastically. For example, at Greenbelt Elementary School there will be a media specialist in the school only two days per week.

Parent and PTA member Melissa Sites is hoping to coordinate volunteer adults and students to carry out basic library tasks such as shelving books, so that the media specialist can concentrate on checking out books and other important tasks on those two days each week. "Elementary school kids need to learn how to research," says Sites, "and teachers want to foster kids' love of reading. So it's imperative that our Media Center is able to put books in students' hands."

Each of the local public schools also has a parent-teacher group such as a PTA or PTO which meets regularly and coordinates events and activities at the school. Contact the school for more information on how to participate in these groups.

As GES PTA President Lucy Dirksen explains, "Many hands make work light. The more that we work together, the more we can accomplish as a community."

GMS Meet, Greet Thursday at 7 p.m.

The Greenbelt Middle School (GMS) meet and greet with Principal Warren Tweedy has been rescheduled for Thursday, August 18 at 7 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

The event, originally scheduled for August 9, was cancelled due to the lack of air conditioning.

Libertarian and did not want to impose further regulation. He felt that existing GHI rules, requiring members to refrain from "any act or thing that shall or may be a nuisance, annoyance, inconvenience" to their neighbors, were sufficient, he said. He simply wants to be able to enjoy his home without breathing air filled with second-hand smoke. He is not asking his neighbor to stop smoking.

One audience member noted that the wife of the couple next door had stopped smoking. The husband had quit smoking in the house, first smoking on his porch and subsequently moving to the side of his yard away from Schuman. Since the neighbor had tried to cooperate, shouldn't Schuman simply close his windows and take other measures to prevent smoke from entering his home?

Schuman responded, "We want to use our unit freely, not with restrictions. The real question is should we have to breathe our neighbor's smoke?"

To his comment Goderre Jones responded, "Because it is a cooperative. You have to work with others." And her husband added, "You don't want a policy change, you want to change policy for one resident."

He further accused Schuman of being a "Libertarian only for himself."

Another Neighbor

According to statements at the meeting, Schuman moved into his GHI home in 1995; his neighbor a year later. Preceding them in 1993 was Dorrie Ipolito who lives adjacent to the smoker on the other side.

Ipolito spoke at the meeting. She had not joined Schuman in his initial complaint because of her employment at the time. Now retired, however, she said she is actively involved.

She noted that by moving further away from Schuman to smoke, the smoking neighbor was now smoking closer to her unit. She asked: "Why do I have to rearrange my life? Why do I have to close a window?"

Consultant

Most of the meeting was devoted to a presentation by consultant James L. Repace. He holds a master of science degree in biophysics, is an adjunct professor at Tufts University and has his own consulting firm. Repace discussed several studies he and others had made about the effects of smoking and second-hand smoke.

He noted studies that found that smoke originating in one unit of a multifamily dwelling can infiltrate other units and that sealing walls, pipes and vents have proved ineffective in preventing smoke from drifting from one dwelling unit to another in the same building.

At Schuman's house he took measurements of the amount of nicotine found in the air within the house at the nearest and farthest first-floor windows at times when the neighbor was and was not smoking.

He said he found that the wind was blowing 30 percent of the time in the direction of Schuman's home. He found the levels of nicotine to be twice as great when the neighbor was smoking and Schuman's windows were open. While below the minimal risk level for carcinogens in nicotine, the levels of smoke were still found to be irritating. Repace said it has been determined that carcinogens other than nicotine are much more persistent in second-hand smoke. Based on nicotine levels found, one can conclude that other compounds will be found at 100 to 250 times the nicotine level.

Other Litigants

Also attending the meeting were Jesse and Jessica Wieman and Harriett Hershman, owners of condominiums in a building in Montgomery County, who have also filed a suit in Montgomery County. They live one and two floors above a smoker who moved in after they did and are greatly bothered, they said, by the second-hand smoke.

They contend they are unable to sell their units without a loss because of the housing market and "who would want to buy it?"

report, he added.

One District

Staff and council were relieved that the entire City of Greenbelt, including unpopulated areas such as Greenbelt Park and Greenbelt Station, are included in the same district. Councilmember Emmett Jordan said that keeping communities whole is important but he was disappointed that the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) and Goddard Space Flight Center were not also included in District 3. He said he feels a connection to both of these entities and would like Goddard and at least part of BARC to be in Greenbelt's district.

Councilmember Leta Mach agreed, saying Greenbelt has "adopted" BARC and Goddard. It was noted that Goddard actually has a Greenbelt address. There is little population in both areas, with only a few residential properties included within the boundaries of BARC and none at Goddard.

The motion made by Jordan to send a letter to the redistricting commission and Greenbelt's current county council representatives requesting this change was passed unanimously.

Moran reminded council that the letter should also include appreciation that the commission had listened to and acted on council's previous letter about respecting municipal boundaries. Council agreed. They also agreed to send letters to other members of the Four Cities Coalition to offer support for the redistricting concerns of these municipalities.

Used Books Sought At Tai Sophia Gallery

Good news for those whose bookshelves are overflowing – during August the Greenbelt Elementary School PTA will collect used books to sell at the Used Book booth at the Labor Day Festival.

Book donations may be dropped off at the Co-op Supermarket by no later than Tuesday, August 30. At-home pick-up for large donations can be arranged; leave a message at 301-474-0390. Donations are tax deductible; just ask for a receipt.

The PTA says it is easiest for them to handle books in boxes, packed spine side up and sorted by fiction or non-fiction. All books are accepted.

Money raised through the book sale is used by the PTA to support school events, programs and awards.

Rochambeau March Bowie Reenactment

On Saturday, August 27 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Belair Mansion in Bowie will host its annual 18th century reenactment of Count Rochambeau's 1781 March to Yorktown through Bowie to assist in defeat of the British.

Both American and British forces will be represented. There is no cause for alarm, given the presence of enemy troops at the Mansion — they will be contained by Colonial patriots! Attendees can be guaranteed that the Colonials will win the end-of-day skirmish.

The public is invited to visit the Mansion to discuss the War for Independence, 18th century military life, weaponry or to join the ladies' sewing circle in the Mansion parlor.

Belair Mansion is located at 12207 Tulip Grove Dr. in Bowie.

The Department is offering a reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a suspect in any of the unsolved crimes reported in the blotter.

Call 1-866-411-TIPS.

People may anonymously report suspected drug activity by calling the Drug Tip Line at 240-542-2145.

Six Month Crime Data Holds Downward Trend

by James Giese

Based on six-month figures, Greenbelt continues to experience a significantly lower incidence of Class I crimes than in either the previous year (down 19 percent) or the last five years. Five-year lows for the first six-months of calendar years occurred in the categories of murder, rape, aggravated assaults, larcenies and motor vehicle thefts. Only in burglaries, which have experienced a 19 percent increase over last year and are almost triple the number in 2007, is there a counter trend.

The most significant crime reduction reported is that of larcenies, down 36 percent. Larcenies consist of thefts other than robberies and burglaries. Many larcenies are the result of shoplifting. For the first six months of 2011, there were 100 fewer reports of larceny made.

The decrease in the number of crimes in this one category exceeds the total crime number decrease of 97 for all crime categories. For this year larcenies account for 44 percent of all crimes reported.

For the other crime categories, the increase in number of burglaries reported exceeded the combined decreases reported.

According to crime data and analysis provided by the Greenbelt Police Department for January through June of this year, overall crime has diminished in every sector of the city. The majority (57 percent) of crime occurred in Greenbelt West which includes the Franklin Park apartment complex, Beltway Plaza and the Greenbelt Metro Station. Greenbelt East accounts for 27 percent of crimes reported and Greenbelt Center 16 percent. Greenbelt West is that part of the city west of Kenilworth Avenue and Greenbelt East is that part lying east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

In Franklin Park robberies are down 66 percent and motor vehicle thefts down 52 percent. Offsetting this is a recent continuing increase in burglaries, up 48 percent. The police report attributes the overall decline in crime to the public/private partnership with Fieldstone Properties, owners of Franklin Park at Greenbelt Station. This has resulted in the identification and removal of scores of occupants and visitors who have an affinity for crime, according to the report. Also, the screening process for new residents has been tightened.

In Greenbelt East, breaking and entering are down 53 percent and motor vehicle thefts are down 52 percent. Robberies, however, remain at the same level as last year at 18 incidents.

In Greenbelt Center robberies have increased ten-fold, from 1 to 10 and breaking and entering increased by one incident over the first six months of 2010. Larcenies, however, dropped by 68 percent.

According to the report, the department attributes crime reduction in part to the employment of technology not available last year. Automated tag readers enable officers to quickly identify stolen autos, suspended/revoked drivers, wanted persons and other vehicle records. The department also is deploying strategic enforcement action in every part of the city where an upward tick in crime is indicated, the report states.

Tickets will be available for purchase at the Co-op Grocery Store on Saturday August 20 from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Phillips Is Wildlife Artist of the Month

The Hollingsworth Art Gallery at the National Wildlife Visitor Center is currently exhibiting nature photographs by James E. Phillips.

A love of nature photography began for Phillips in 1975 with the opportunity to travel out West for 26 days visiting over 15 states to hike, camp and take pictures in remote places like the bottom of the Grand Canyon and 12,000 feet up in the Rocky Mountains. After returning home he was encouraged by his mother to go to college as a photography major.

He is widely traveled in the U.S. and enjoys all types of nature photography, including macro photography, landscapes and seascapes. His greatest love is waterfalls and water in motion and he prefers to capture motion by using longer exposure times to create a painted-on effect.

The National Wildlife Visitor Center is located off Powder Mill Road between the B/W Parkway and Md. Rt. 197 south of Laurel. For details call 301-497-5763 or visit <http://patuxent.fws.gov>.

First impressions are made at a glance and nothing makes a better impression than a beautiful smile. A smile makeover improves the appearance of your smile, and even more important, can restore the health and function of your mouth and teeth. If you are self-conscious about the appearance of your teeth, there may be a quick and convenient solution to restore your confidence when you smile and laugh.

A smile makeover always begins with a comprehensive dental check-up and consultation. During the initial consultation, your dentist will identify and discuss with you various issues that may be affecting your dental health. These problems may include tooth decay (cavities), gum disease, chips, cracks, gaps, misalignment, and staining or yellowing of your teeth.

Your dentist will then develop a treatment plan specific for your unique dental health and dental care needs.

A smile makeover can include the use of teeth whitening, dental crowns, porcelain veneers and dental implants. The procedures used to treat your mouth will depend on the types of dental problems that you have.

1. Crooked teeth are harder to clean and can lead to gum disease. Crooked or crowded teeth can often be straightened with nearly-invisible Invisalign orthodontics, which are more discreet, less expensive, and often work faster than traditional braces. Invisalign is a great option for adults who have always wanted straight teeth, or have had relapse from braces as a teenager.

2. Chipped and broken teeth can be repaired with combinations of cosmetic bonding, porcelain veneers or porcelain crowns. Porcelain veneers are custom-made wafer-thin shells which, when bonded to the front of teeth can dramatically improve a smile. Porcelain crowns encase the entire tooth in a protective covering at the gum line. In the past, porcelain crowns were fused to metal and were less natural looking. Today, all-porcelain crowns and veneers are more durable and much more natural looking.

3. Missing teeth can be replaced with dental implants and crowns, permanent bridges or dentures. A dental implant is an artificial tooth root that anchors a replacement tooth, bridge or denture. With the recent advances in dental implants, more patients are candidates for permanent tooth replacement. A dental implant restored with a crown looks, feels and functions like a natural tooth.

4. Stained and discolored teeth that cannot be brightened with professional teeth whitening can sparkle again with traditional porcelain veneers or the newest no-preparation veneers. "No-prep" veneers can be a perfect solution to repair stained, discolored or chipped teeth and can also fill in spaces between teeth. With little or no drilling and no needles or Novacaine, these custom made thin veneers create an affordable, beautiful and natural smile.

5. Gaps between teeth can be closed instantly with porcelain veneers or more gradually with Invisalign or traditional orthodontics.

Ask your dentist about ways to keep your smile looking and feeling great. Everyone deserves a healthy and beautiful smile.

Sales Tax Free Week On Clothing, Shoes

The State of Maryland's August 14 through 20 sales tax free week on apparel and footwear up to $100 is scheduled this year just in time for back to school shopping.

While accessory items are not included, clothing and shoes are free of the usual six percent sales tax during what has been designated as "Shop Maryland Week." Especially when combined with retailer's sale offers in the back to school shopping season, this can offer significant consumer savings for thrifty shoppers.

Poetry at the New Deal Café Classic Gas, Barbaric Yawps

by Jim Link

The usual suspects plus some fresh faces regaled 30-some sensitive poetry aficionados at the New Deal Café on Tuesday, August 16. Some read classic poets; others sounded their own particular barbaric yawps.

The floral and bohemian mistress of ceremonies, Amethyst, opened with Mary Oliver's "Wild Geese," Tokey read W. B. Yeats's "Second Coming," W. H. Auden's "The Unknown Citizen" and T.S. Eliot's "Gerontion." Lenny read "A Teacher" by Reed Whittemore, his revered old professor of English at Maryland, whose students' "Babbit, bourgeois faces were beyond saving."

Eileen read "Yarns" by astronomer Mary Alexander Agner in which Penelope complains of Ulysses' lies and infidelities and even excoriates Tennyson for overhyping the sacker of Troy.

Julie read a tender poem of her dad teaching her how to drive years ago. Janet riffed hilariously on Bill Clinton's sexual hypocrisy; Cybele (rhymes with "hell") sang of the satisfaction of eviscerating an ex-boyfriend in "Toxic Muse."

Amy played her bongos and asked, "Why do I have to kiss so many frogs to find a prince?" Harriet read Lewis Carroll's "Jabberwocky."

Don urged us to "go to dinner at the New Deal Café, because it welcomes saint and sinner." Awakened at 4 a.m., Barbara recited "mantras of attempted prayers to get back to the dream place."

Rocky Jones shared a thrillingly erotic poem which asserted (roughly), "You give me fever, fever all through the night, plus night sweats, migraines, ague and flu . . . ."

Sylvia described a visit to her young doctor who shouted at her "You must lose weight!" just before he collapsed and died of a stroke.

"Poetry is as necessary as bread in the pockets of the poor," Amethyst reminded us and ended the evening with another gem from Mary Oliver:

"Instructions for Living"

1. Pay attention
2. Be astonished
3. Tell about it.

The next open microphone poetry reading will be on Tuesday, September 13 from 7 to 9 p.m.
